

Vale Consulting Services

Vale Training Solutions has launched Vale Consulting Services (VCS) to provide Leakage Analysis Audits.

VCS offers Leakage Analysis Audits on property, casualty, and workers compensation files, as well as litigation management files. Leakage is the difference in what was paid on a claim file and what should have been paid if all best practices had been followed.

VCS takes it beyond an average file audit and delivers an analysis that addresses the root causes of the leakage and presents a strategic plan with constructive recommendations and best practices that will improve the claims process to ensure fair indemnification of the insured or claimant.

We know claims and we live claims, so we understand your business. Just as the claims industry is ever-evolving, so are we. We're adapting to the changing needs and emerging claims issues, and are providing solutions that meet modern day challenges in the claims world.

Best Practices have to be living, breathing, and evolving in the organization because claims keep evolving. We keep a pulse on external changes as they occur, identify the impact to you, suggest improvements in your processes, and can also help implement the changes necessary to correct them.

Vale has a 65+ year legacy, and providing consulting services isn't 'new' for us. We have now simply expanded, by creating a dedicated practice to provide consulting services with a team of professionals whose expertise span across property, casualty, workers comp, and litigation management.
